

Cornelia Mayer is one of the best-known zither players of our time. She studied bassoon at the University of Music and Performing Arts in Vienna and Graz and zither at the Konservatorium Privatuniversität Vienna. As a musician, she has been in high demand for orchestras for many years.

She displayed her diverse repertoire on the Viennese zither at solo performances at the Musikverein Vienna, at the New Years's Concert of the Nuremberg Symphony Orchestra, in England for the Anglo-Austrian Society and on many more occasions as well as recordings on CDs.

Cornelia Mayer is author and publisher of various books and brochures about the Viennese zither. She teaches children and teenagers at the „Musikschule Wien“ (School for Music Vienna) and students of zither worldwide via Skype.
